

Faith Communities Census Weekend July 24-26

LCWR is committed to helping ensure that the 2020 Census counts each and every person living in this country. Current circumstances including political polarization, fearmongering, anti-immigrant sentiment, and COVID-19 are enormous barriers to getting an accurate count. As a trusted voice in the community, women religious can help to ensure a complete and accurate count.

Please join us July 24 to 26 for Faith Communities Census Weekend of Action and encourage participation in the 2020 census. Actions could include posting messages on social media or in your newsletter, or sharing Faith Communities Census Weekend playlist, including PSAs from faith leaders like Judith Ann Karam, CSA. For a list of ways to get involved, please visit the newly updated faith communities 2020 Census action guide.

In these difficult times people of faith have an opportunity to help ensure the right of every person to be counted. We believe that all people are created in God's image, all have inherent dignity and we know that all have the right to be counted.
